Congressman Grayson (D) on Massive Foreclosure Fraud at MERS and Elsewhere

Author : michaelbloomer

Foreclosure's Not So Much Fun Anymore. Congressman Alan Grayson (D-FL)[Central Florida] recently spoke of a foreclosure controversy that is crawling to the top of the news cycle. The subject is the Mortgage Electronic Registration System (MERS) . . .
"Nationalize" W/4 "Banking Industry" MERS may be incubating new Decession lifeforms that just might feed on what's left of the banking industry, and, in turn, the stock market, the bond market, etc. Will we again hear the word "nationalize" in close proximity to "the banking industry"? (I'll follow with a post on this soon.)

Of course, the congressman was reviled by the "all truth none of the time" network, FOX, so he, and many others, must be onto something. I tend to believe a man who titles his proposed legislation like these:

H.R.4431 : Business Should Mind Its Own Business Act

H.R.4432 : Corporate Propaganda Sunshine Act

H.R.4434 : End Political Kickbacks Act of 2009

H.R.4444 : Defund the Crooks Act

H.R.4487 : End the Hijacking of Shareholder Funds Act

H.R.4511 : Pick Your Poison Act of 2010

H.R.5353 : War is Making You Poor Act

and my favorite, the 11th Commandment:

H.R.6000 : Thou Shalt Not Kill Thy Customers Act

(To find out more about these, none of which, unfortunately, has gone anywhere in this Congress, click here)
