Snapshot Series : A List Of GOP Speakers At Last Saturday's 1963 March On Washington Commemoration

Author : michaelbloomer

'[T]he RNC must embark on a year-round effort to engage with African American voters.'

from, Republican National Committee, Growth and Opportunity Project, final report, March 2013, pg. 18

'[RNC Chairman] Priebus has made a deliberate effort to make inroads in the black and Hispanic communities, arguing that the party needs to expand its appeal to minority voters.'

Washington Post, Post Politics, August 14, 2013
RNC, black Republicans to commemorate March on Washington

On Monday, August 28, 2013, two days after the 50th Anniversary March on Washington events at the Lincoln Memorial . . .

'In commemoration of the 50th Anniversary of the March on Washington, the RNC hosted a luncheon yesterday at the Capitol Hill.'

GOP.com, GOP Blog
August 27, 2013

'Not a single Republican elected official stood on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial on Wednesday with activists, actors, lawmakers and former presidents invited to mark the 50th anniversary of the March on Washington —

a notable absence for a party seeking to attract the support of minority voters.'

Washington Post, Post Politics, August 28 2013,
Republicans absent from March on Washington

Is it just me,
or is something odd happening here?

Would you mind clicking here to leave me a helpful comment?
I'm confused.