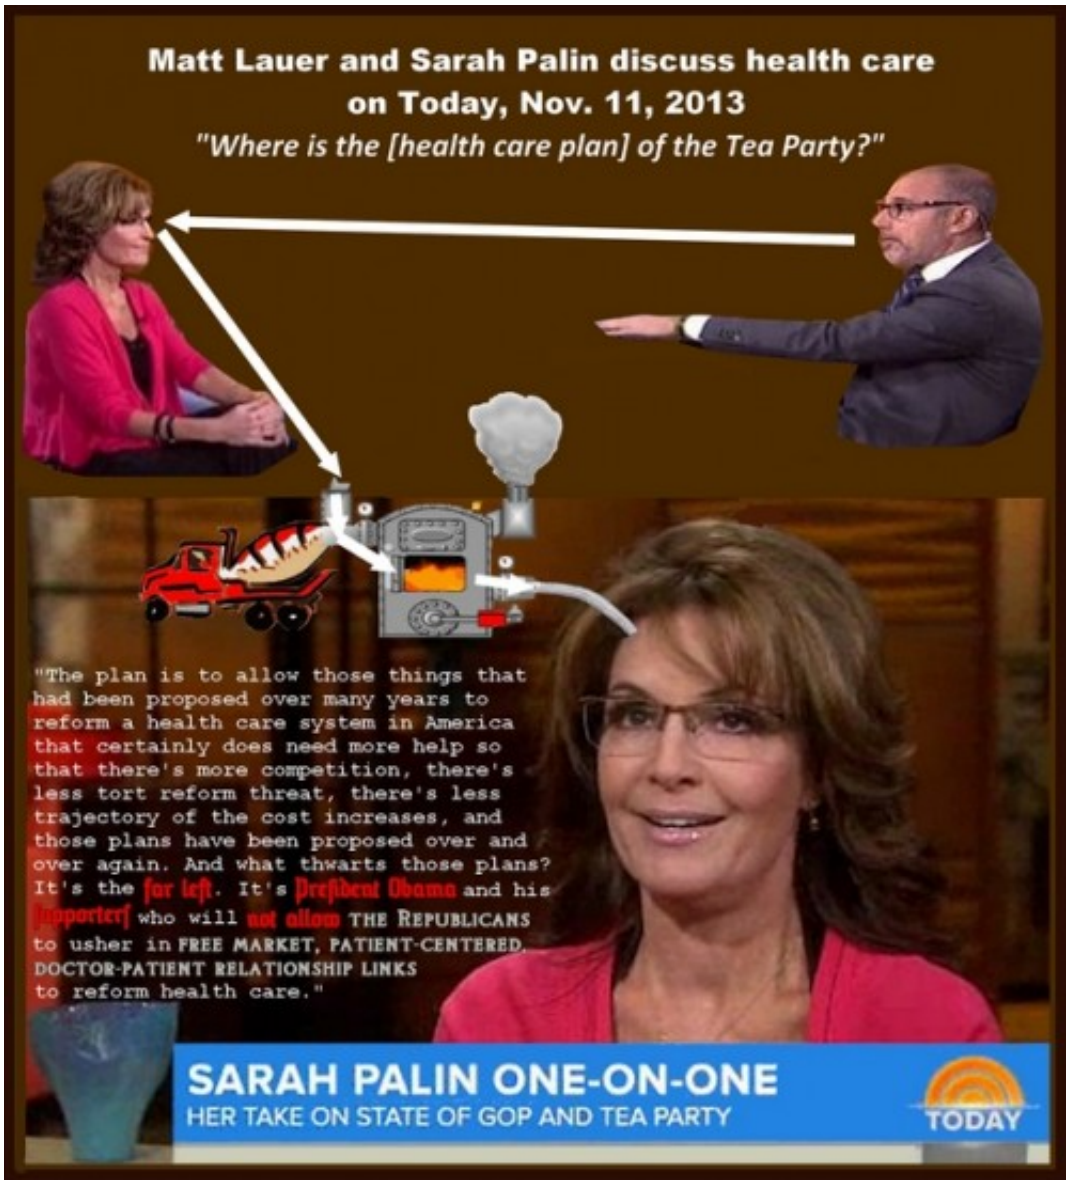
Why did she wait so long to voice her opinion?



Matt Lauer and Sarah Palin discuss health care
on Today, Nov. 11, 2013
"Where is the [health care plan] of the Tea Party?"
"The plan is to allow those things that had been proposed over many years to reform a health care system in America that certainly does need more help so that there's more competition, there's less tort reform threat, there's less trajectory of the cost increases, and those plans have been proposed over and over again. And what thwarts those plans? It's the far left. It's President Obama and his supporters who will not allow THE REPUBLICANS to usher in FREE MARKET, PATIENT-CENTERED, DOCTOR-PATIENT RELATIONSHIP LINKS to reform health care."
